MACQUARIE University

Research Study: Supporting the Health and Wellbeing of Australian Doctors and Medical Students

Researchers from Macquarie University are conducting an independent evaluation for Doctors Health Services Pty Ltd. This project aims to better understand the types of supports doctors and medical students need and peoples' experiences accessing support from the national Drs4Drs service.

You are invited to participate if:

- You are a doctor or medical student aged >18 years and living in Australia; and
- You have accessed the national Drs4Drs confidential phone line; or
- You have accessed one of the Drs4Drs workshops; or
- You have not accessed the phone line but you believe support services for doctors and medical students are important.

What's involved?

- A brief anonymous online survey (approx. 15 minutes)
- Optional confidential online interview (30-60min) at a time convenient to you.

Participation is voluntary. You can decide whether to participate or not.

Follow this link or use the QR code to access full details and to complete the survey.

Have a question or want to speak to someone about the project?
Please contact the research team: Christina Rojas christina.rojas@mq.edu.au or Olivia Hillan olivia.hillan@mq.edu.au

Approved by Macquarie University Human Research Ethics Committee (HREC reference 520262121769950)